Programme Finance Officer, Americas & Caribbean

Americas & Caribbean Programme

“In the past century FFI has consistently saved species from extinction and protected habitats from destruction. Their solutions have always been practical, efficient and sustainable in local circumstances.”

Sir David Attenborough,
FFI Vice-president

Fauna & Flora International

Fauna & Flora International (FFI) saves species from extinction and habitats from destruction, while improving the livelihoods of local people. Our guiding principles are to work through local partnerships, act as a catalyst for change, make conservation relevant, and base decisions on sound science. Founded in 1903, FFI is the world's longest established international conservation body; our conservation work, and impact, spans the globe.

Americas And Caribbean Programme

The FFI Americas & Caribbean Programme works to deliver FFI's mission in the wider Caribbean and Latin America. With a regional base in Cambridge, the programme has staff in Nicaragua, Antigua and Saint Lucia, and additional projects with partners in Ecuador, Belize, Honduras, and a growing number of Caribbean islands, including St Lucia, Antigua, Anguilla, Barbados and St Vincent and the Grenadines.

The Americas & Caribbean Programme seeks to bring FFI expertise, innovative approaches and resources to bear on landscape, site and species conservation and the associated challenges of sustainable development, especially for those local people and stakeholders who depend on the natural ecosystem for their livelihoods. We work both at site level and on national policies. In every location we cooperate with partner NGOs, local and national government, communities, industries and other stakeholders and seek to respond to their conservation priorities and build local capacity. Target habitats and species include coastal and marine habitats in the eastern tropical Pacific and Caribbean, dry forest, and endangered island endemics of the Caribbean. We also work on charismatic flagship species, notably sea turtles, for which we have an extensive programme, which is centred on Nicaragua but cooperates regionally.

The Opportunity

FFI is seeking qualified candidates for the position of Programme Finance Officer to provide administrative support to the Americas and Caribbean Programme (ACR), and to ensure the timeliness, quality and effectiveness of its financial management, assisting the Americas & Caribbean team to produce, manage and report against programme and project budgets and to strengthen fundraising and administration of projects.

You will have proven experience in a similar finance and administration role. Your excellent budgeting and financial analysis skills will enable you to support the Finance Business Partner in solving finance problems and ensuring up to date and accurate financial reports. You will have excellent organisational and administrative skills and be a strong team player. You will enjoy working in a dynamic environment where the ability to respond swiftly to changing organisational and team needs is paramount. Your excellent interpersonal skills will enable you to build positive organisational relationships. Fluency in English and Spanish are essential.

In return, we offer the opportunity to work for a ground-breaking organisation at the forefront of global conservation, with generous pension contribution, attractive annual leave allowance, life insurance and salary exchange schemes, including Cycle to Work Scheme.

Our offices are located in The David Attenborough Building in central Cambridge, just a few minutes' walk from glorious historic buildings and museums, the picturesque River Cam, the central market and shopping centre, and a host of cafés and restaurants.
